ENTERTAINING AL FIELD.

The Elks Hold a Social Session for the Minstrels.

The "devout Elks" entertained the Al Field minstrel company Saturday night in one of the jolliest open-sessions that, or any other order ever gave in Topeka.

O. P. Updegraff in opening the event did so in the place of Exalted Ruler William Hunderd, who was unavoidably absent. He introduced Mr. Field, the master of ceremonies, who was told the lodge rooms and lodge members were his to do as he wished with for the time. Mr. Field related a number of good stories, and he called upon not only the minstrel men but members of the lodge to keep up the spirits of the occasion.

Robert Pierce gave two comic recitations. Prof. Roehr rendered a piano solo, and Lee Jones and "Phlick" Smith also took part.

Of the members of the company, Mr. Field's partner, Tom Donnelly, was probably the funniest, Will Walling the tenor, whose voice is as clear as a bell, and A. M. Thatcher, who can sing so low that everybody smiles, furnished vocal solos. Fred Russell who looks like Governor McKinley, gave a comic recitation. By an oversight the orchestra accompanying the troupe was not present.

The prices are only 10, 20 and 30 cents, and Corse Payton guarantees that it is the best company ever in Topeka at those prices, and will return money to any one being dissatisfied. Ladies are admitted free when accompanied by a paid admission ticket purchased before 7 p. m. this evening.

Side Trunked?

"Side Trunked?" a bright and original comedy drama will be seen here at the Grand tonight. The management has the entire right of the famous Columbian dance, introduced by Louise Lewellyn, a most graceful and charming dancer.

A "RAZOR" TOUGH.

A Colored Man Who Wants to Kill When He Gets Mad.

"Skinny," or James Johnson, colored, went to the police headquarters yesterday and gave himself up to the officers, because there was a warrant out for him on the charge of assault.

About 9 o'clock Saturday night J. H. Crumrine, a clerk in the Rock Island offices, was skating on Soldier creek. So was "Skinny." It was quite dark, and the two were rounding a curve at full speed, going in opposite directions, there was a collision.

"Skinny" says Crumrine struck him. This Crumrine denies, and says the colored man became furious and drew a razor. He made a vicious slash at Crumrine, the blade striking his breast and cutting the coat until the blade stopped by striking the watch in his vest pocket. Mr. Crumrine fortunately escaped with only the injury to this wardrobe.

Owens, as is customary, went to the state house about 6 o'clock this morning to build the fire in the engine room. In attempting to descend a narrow flight of stairs leading from the ground to the engine room, he lost his footing and fell, striking his back on the iron handles of a large box.

The only other person about the building was the night watchman, and he was awoke to the place by Owens' call for help. The patrol wagon was called and Owens was taken to his home at 1130 Harrison street.

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the reply will be positive in its favor. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. One has been cured of indigestion or dyspepsia, another finds its indispensable for sick headache or biliousness, while others report remarkable cures of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, salt rheum, etc.

A MODERN MONARCHY

THE LATE HAWAIIAN KINGDOM AS A SUBJECT FOR SATIRE.

The Extravagances and Scandals of the Sandwich Islands Monarchy—The Poet's Theme and the Artist's Inspiration—A Great Field For Wit.

(Special Correspondence.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Ex-Queen Liliuokalani's off-goes-his-head sentiments, as expressed to Minister Willis, give but a partial idea of this just now famous deposed monarch and her realm. The extravagances and scandals of the monarchy under her late husband, Kalakaua, have been aptly described in verse by Hawaiian poets and portrayed by her artists. A few extracts from the "Greyberg Ballads" are just now of particular interest. Kaikaua and his satellites were known throughout the world for their daily debauchies, which led to a talk off upon the merits for creating orders and giving decorations in the imaginary creation of the "Order of the Barn."

All members who are called to "todd tea" are worn a white and green five-pointed star of gold shiny feathers—plumage from the same bigger roosting in eternal flame. What is called "insignia" shall be the same for each, whatever his degree. The when all hands may drink till all in blue, What matters then a collar, spear or shield?

After Queen Victoria had celebrated her jubilee, it dawned upon King Kalakaua that his fiftieth birthday should also be fittingly celebrated by a jubilee, so that he should not appear to be behind other civilized nations. He was encouraged in this idea by his premier and his court, who wanted a royal good time at the public expense. Invitations were accordingly sent to all the crowned potentates of the world; but, none accepting, three Hawaiian princes, who were at school in California, were imwas compelled to disgorge out of his income on the installment plan.

The first uprising of the Hawaiian people in Kalakaua's time was chiefly directed against his premier and minister of foreign affairs, who was arrested, but finally permitted to escape the country on a sailing vessel. Of him the poet said this to say:

You boast of the deepest dye—unmitigated fraud!

You pass for a silly waste, white "burns" and "leaks" spread!

Already you have lost your hold. Fast running Go—on in nature's meanest garb—a man—

It is hardly surprising that the better element has revolted against the perpetration of such a condition in Honolulu, the cost of which they have had to bear for years and years.
